STATEMENT

We of the University for Man, feel that the American Educational system in its present structure does not meet the needs of our society. The student contently exists within the ivory walls, shunning responsibility for himself and the necessity of making decisions which affect his life. The university does not provide meaningful training to help in discussing the crucial issues confronting mankind today. Instead of promoting life, it postpones it.

We believe that each individual has particular interests and possibilities and therefore needs to ask his own questions and direct his own education. Education involves the total environment, and should lead to personal growth and social action.

If education is to permit constructive creativity it must be free of grades and compelling requirements. The eventual aim of education is to allow us to think and discover for ourselves.

COURSES

Courses on any subject may be offered by any person at any time. The direction it takes and the success a course has is up to you and those participating in the class. The childish system of grades as rewards is removed and therefore, one must determine his own commitment. We believe that learning is the result of a true desire to learn. It is up to you to determine your educational interests.

ADMINISTRATION

Policy making and decisions are open to all participants. Starting the 9th of October UFM will hold a general meeting each month to discuss major problems. Immediate questions and decisions will be handled by those frequenting the office during the week. Come and begin to determine the direction of the university that is for you.

THE OFFICE

The office is located at 1801 Anderson Avenue on the second floor of the Baptist Center. Our phone is 532-6957.

Part of the office has been set aside to begin a library. We need ideas for books, papers, and magazines you would like for your own use and made available for others.

Because of the present shortage in housing and jobs in Manhattan, UFM would like to experiment with a new community service. It appears that the easiest way to find an apartment or a job is to know someone who is about ready to abandon their present position. To facilitate exchange there will be lists posted in the office to advertise those seeking or leaving a job or a home.

REGISTRATION INFORMATION:

October 9th (Thursday) from 6:30 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. at Woodward's Department Store on Poyntz Avenue.

October 9th and 10th (Thursday and Friday) from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. on the main floor of the Student Union.

If you cannot come to the above places to register drop us a line or call UFM office. Registration for groups may be limited by the convener. Additional information about any workshop or group can be obtained by contacting the leader.

BROCHURES ARE AVAILABLE IN THE STUDENT UNION, UFM OFFICE, MANHATTAN CHAMBER OF COMMERCE, AND ASSORTED LOCATIONS ON CAMPUS AND DOWNTOWN.

Coordinator: Sue Maes 532-6957 or 539-8304
Assistants: Sally Wisely Richard Brown
David Hursh Steve Fretwell
Dorothy Childress Roberta Wirth
Carolyn Coates

FREE THEATRE WORKSHOP: A plunge of unpredictable depth into the maelstrom of the underground theatre and related areas. Emphasis will be both practical and theoretical with production ambitions. A close look at the Living Theatre, directional acting, and creation techniques. Will hold work sessions involving these as well as theatre games, improvisations, mime, and mixing of means. Opportunities for directing, creating, and performing. Tuesday, 7:30 p.m., Student Union, room 205a. Leader: Frank Siegle, 6-7121.

THE ART OF BENIN: A discussion and investigation of the art and culture of Benin and other West African traditions. The course will be centered around authentic examples. The tradition of life and Benin . . . through what diversity of experience did it emerge? Investigation and discussions of the parallels of style in the fine arts of West Africa. A new Africa confronts the world, independent, resurgent, claiming a place of dignity and due respect in the councils of mankind. No doubt it may be high time for the rest of us to look at this claim with an eye of understanding, and for that, a reassessment of African culture will be essential. Every other Tuesday, 8:00 p.m., at 1200 Centennial Drive. Leader: Dennis Underbjerg, 9-6421.

WOMEN'S LIBERATION WORKSHOP: Single and married women: do you feel disturbed or dissatisfied with your role as a woman in our society? Then come to Women's Liberation where you can share your problems and ideas with other women in an honest, supportive atmosphere and become strong, independent, liberated, courageous, intelligent, creative, proud, sensitive, noble, compassionate, rebellious, skeptical, unoppressed, AND NOT TO BE MESSED WITH. Ellen Wintz, Lynne McMahon, Alice Golin, Teresa Meyers, Celia Goldknopf, Tuesday, 8:00 p.m., 1600 Poyntz. Phone: 8-3067 or 8-5562.

WHAT IS MAN? WHAT AM I? The continuation of a group which met during the summer. Our goal is to better know and thereby understand ourselves so that we might gain a realistic view of Man and his potential. Our method is discussion. Join us Thursday at 8:00 p.m., phone 9-9242. Conveners: Nick Edwards, Margo Zallen, Howard Simister.

CREATIVE PHOTOGRAPHY: Open to those who are interested in improving their photographic techniques both behind the camera and in the darkroom. Individual projects will be selected by the group so that each person can develop his own interest as fully as possible. Some darkroom methods will be discussed as well as photography as a creative medium. Will be meeting twice a month. Leader: Mike Larson, 6-9182.

PERSPECTIVES IN BLACK LITERATURE: Already turned on? Want something to do with your high? Join us. "Perspectives" needs you to spread the word. This is an action group. As Kahil Gibran has written: "Work is love made visible." Our basic function is quite explicit: to review books pertaining to the controversial issue of the day: the black-white issue. These reviews are to be given, upon request, to campus organizations and various church, social, and civic groups. This group, an offshoot of the Human Relations Education Seminar in April, is designed to promote interest and awareness in the black literature of the day. Wednesday, 7:30 p.m., in room 203 of the Student Union. Leader: Larry Rock. NOTE: ANY GROUP WHO WOULD LIKE TO HAVE A REVIEW PRESENTED CAN CONTACT LARRY ROCK.

CLASSICAL GUITAR: I would like to get together with other people in town who play the guitar for enjoyment. I am especially interested in classical guitar. This would be a chance to share and learn from each other. Individuals in the group should have their own instrument and some knowledge of music. The group is for playing, rather than giving lessons. Observers are welcome. Wednesday, 7:30 p.m., 1801 Anderson Avenue. Leader: Mary Curnutte, 9-5634.

MODERN DANCE: This offers a beginners modern dance course for both men and women. Meetings will be held on Mondays and Thursdays from 7:00 p.m. to 8:00 p.m., in the Baptist Center, 1801 Anderson Avenue. Leader: Edith Hinrichs, 9-5463.

THE THEOLOGY OF PAUL TILlich: A discussion and reading of the theology of Paul Tillich. Emphasis will be placed on his sermons and his books, "Dimension of Faith" and "Courage To Be." Open to 15 people who want to work together to discover. Tuesday, 7:00 p.m., 1801 Anderson Avenue. Leader: Bruce Woods.

PHILOSOPHICAL TAOISM: We will concentrate on the metaphysic ethic and social organization of Taoism and its conception of the nature of man. Focus will be on the source statement of Taoism, the Tao Teh Ching. There will be brief consideration of historical backgrounds of the Chuang-tzu, the Lieh-tzu, Esoteric, and Popular Taoism as well as later writings. The group will be limited to seven people. Monday, 8:00 p.m., 1801 Anderson Avenue, upstairs. Leader: Mike Rhodes, 9-5187.

ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND CHINESE CHARACTERS: Chinese, one of the oldest living languages, is terribly unique. Many present-day characters or "word symbols" still bear resemblance to the characters first developed some 4,000 years ago. An adequate Chinese vocabulary would require about 4,000 to 10,000 characters which represents a much larger word vocabulary because characters may be combined to create words of different meanings. If 5 or more persons are interested in finding out more about Chinese a group will be formed. Plans for the group will depend on the desires of the group, but will probably consist of a few large group sessions followed by small study groups of two or three. The time and place of the meetings will be decided by the group later. Leaders: Bob Tang, 532-6861, and Earl Weak, JE 9-3990.

HUSBAND-WIFE INTERPERSONAL RELATIONS: A successful marriage requires a great deal of adjustment and getting used to the other person by each partner in the marriage. This discussion group will explore these early phases of marriage and the interpersonal relations between the couple, with the intentions of clarifying some poorly understood aspects and developing some ways of dealing with the trying situations. Thursday, 9:30-11:30 a.m., 3:30-5:30 and 7:00 p.m. in the Student Union, room 205A. Leader: Darrell Spoon, 9-5337.

COMMUNICATION WITHIN THE FAMILY: What is good communication, and how can it be promoted? What are some of the hangups that interfere when efforts to communicate fail and what can be done about it? We will explore the process of communication within the family. If you are interested in developing a better understanding of communicating with the other members of the family, whether they are your sons and daughters, or your parents, come and share your ideas, so we can learn from each other. Monday, 9:30-11:30 a.m., 3:30-5:30 and 8:00 p.m. Student Union room 205A. Leader: Darrell Spoon, 9-5337.

THINKING WOMEN AND HOUSEWIVES: Are you a bit weary of diapers, little leagues, and neighborhood coffee and bridge parties? Thinking of exercising your mind on a course or two, but not quite sure what? Why not discuss opportunities for women in education and in the world of work with others like yourself and feel no pressure for grades? A group of visiting "experts" from campus and city will be available to add light . . . or heat . . . Thursday, 7:30, in room 203 of the Student Union. Convener: Margaret Lahey.

HOW ARE THEY GROWING? (Ages 0-13): Do we really help children to grow and participate in life during their schooling or does much of our training stifle initiative and problem-solving in real-life situations? Let's look at what is being done at La A. S. Neil, John Holt, Green Valley School, etc. and we enable students to accept initiative and responsibility for their own education, thereby discovering that they are the message? Come with your ideas; let's pool our resources and make something happen. Wednesday, 7:30 in the Newman Center. Conveners: Carolyn Coates and Sue Maes.

VIOLENCE VS. NONVIOLENCE: Which is the better method to effect change? Are these words universally definable? Should they be? The topic here is a large one; many questions can be asked and many related areas explored. The direction of the class will be determined by the participants. The literature surrounding this subject may or may not be tapped. Meeting time and place will be available at registration. Conveners: Ed Lunn and Sally Wisely.

INTERPERSONAL COMMUNICATIONS: This group has been one of the most popular of UFM groups. Its chief concern is mirrored in the Beatle song "Within You, Without You." "We were talking about the space between us all. And the people who hide themselves behind a wall of illusion." This lack of meaningful communication and feeling of not being in touch with others can be combatted by a process of interpersonal communication which is intended to increase sensitivity to others and awareness of self. Such a process of authentic communication will be attempted in this seminar. At least five groups will be offered during different days of the week. The leaders and schedules will be available during registration. Coordinator of the program: Joe DeOrdo, 532-6736.

ME AND LIFE: Now that we have read the theories on successful living let's examine our own theories, our life styles, and our philosophies. Why did we adopt them, or did we? Are they worth keeping? Do they enrich our lives or is there still a need? This will be a free-wheeling dialogue directed toward a richer life. Thursday, 7:00 p.m., in the lobby of the Wesley Foundation. Convener: Skippy Rizotti.

THE ROLE OF THE STUDENT IN EDUCATION REFORM: Are student contributions to university reform limited to demonstrations, strikes, and sit-ins? Or are there alternative ways of student influence? Let us discuss what students can do to 1) personally improve their immediate educational experience, 2) loosen up the system so that those who have (mentally) survived high school might stay alive through college, and 3) develop a system that might wake up the zombies. Tuesday, 7:30 p.m., in the lobby of the Wesley Foundation. Convener: Steve Fretwell, 532-6655.

THE POLITICS OF ECOLOGY: Some scientists feel that life on this planet is seriously endangered by man's living habits. Lake Erie turned into a cesspool, pesticides poisoning water supplies and city air unfit to breathe are but a few examples of man's disruption of the ecosystem. More important than radical or political consciousness is the understanding that we are a part of something larger than ourselves, a part of the totality that is Mother Earth. Anyone interested in exploring new ways of relating to the environment is welcome. Wednesday, 8:00 p.m., in the library of the Wesley Foundation. Convener: David Vitt, 9-8424.

POETRY READING: I would like to get together with people interested in reading and discussing their own or others poetry. Tuesday, 7:00 p.m. Student Union, room 204. Convener: Lynn Whittlesey.

MARRIAGE AND FAMILY—INTERACTION (FOR MARRIED STUDENT COUPLES): Five married student couples will be involved in a group process of exploring the emotional interaction of their marriage for the purpose of marital growth and fulfillment. Focus will be given to handling marital conflict; understanding yourself and how you relate to other family members; husband and wife role expectations; working wives and mothers; academic, financial and sexual adjustments. Monday, 7:00 p.m., Student Union, room 204. Leaders: Mr. and Mrs. Don Fallon, 9-5582.

READERS' THEATRE: Readers' Theatre explorers discovered a fascinating new dimension in the expressive, interpretive approach to literature during the Summer Session. Results? A tentative scenario and script for presentation. Needed in order to stage the production? Readers, writers, tech theatre folk. Interested? Monday, 8:00 p.m., Student Union, room 205c. Leader: Ken Reid, 9-3479.

EXPERIMENTAL MUSIC GROUP: A chance to explore the music of today. Will investigate the wild and weird contemporary sounds. Activities will depend upon the interests of the group. May possibly do some playing and performing. A background in electronics and music would be helpful. Wednesday, 7:30 p.m., in the library of the Wesley Foundation. Leader: Linda Roby, 9-6719.

BLACK-WHITE CHALLENGE: Have you time to give? Sign up and you will be contacted. We need people who are interested in planning for current and future needs. After projects are planned manpower (and womanpower) is badly needed to get them off the ground. Meetings will not be on a weekly basis but as needed. Coordinators: Shel Edelman and Lodi Rhoads, 532-6736.

YOGA MEDITATION: Yoga is a system of meditation. Through meditation it can be applied for an improvement of everyday life. This is the path to self-realization. The realization of the real SELF. Peace of mind, happiness, and the achievement of success in life are by-products of Yoga. Spiritual Yoga aims at reaching that point where man is god and god is man, after knowing which nothing else is left to be known, after achieving which nothing else is left to be achieved. This group is open to only 10 participants. Leader: Yoga Dhyana Ahuja. Call 532-6798 for further information.

THE FREE YOU: The first issue of UFM's newsletter should appear around the last of September—after that, we're looking for an editor to guide the magazine. For anyone looking for fun and hard work with an offset publication, this is the chance. In magazine format, The Free You seeks to communicate news of various UFM groups, but more importantly it provides a needed open forum for faculty, student, and community views; not necessarily in that order. Free expression is the keyword. If you have any essays, poetry, short stories, or art work expressing your views, why not contribute. Material should be mailed or delivered to the UFM office at 1801 Anderson.

KALEIDOSCOPE REACTION: The Union's Cinema 16 films series has undergone major changes: it's now called "Kaleidoscope" and its format is more or less a collage of various films. Would you like to share your reactions, impressions, questions, etc., to some of these films? The group will decide which films we want to concentrate on. The first meeting will be after the W. C. Fields flick, Thursday in the lobby of the Little Theatre. (Admission to film is 50¢.) Nancy Perry, 8-5800.

ATTENTION FILMMAKERS: Get your productions ready for K-State's first Kinetic Arts Festival, to be held the first week of March. Open to everyone—everything acceptable. Sponsored by The Magic Lantern Co. (formerly Union Movies Committee). For more details, contact Nancy Perry, 8-5800.

RADICAL THEORY WORKSHOP: Will read and discuss current radical analyses of economics, politics, and culture. Meeting time and course details yet to be worked out. For information, call Lauren Miller at JE 9-3156.

through the highly developed system of asanas known as hatha yoga as it is taught today by Prof. T. Krishnamacharya of Madras and his pupils. The course proceeds through training in breath control, asanas, and yogic meditation to integral development of the body and personality towards its highest potential. Mondays, 5:30 p.m., 801 Willard Place. Leader: Dr. Albert Franklin. Call 532-6798 for further information.

GREAT BOOKS DISCUSSION: Would you like to participate in a "Great Books" discussion? We will be meeting with residents of Manhattan and some of the surrounding communities. We will be able to travel by pooling rides. Anyone interested should sign up and contact Mrs. Shirley Sikes at 293-5827.

FRESHMEN FOCUS: Discussion group for about 15 freshmen students. Concerned with the here and now of education and life at Kansas State. Directions the sessions will take will be determined by the interests of the group. Here's your chance to find out what's happening. Wednesday, 7:00 p.m., at Carol Coon's apartment in Goodnow Hall. Leader: Carol Coon 9-2514.

ROLE OF THE STUDENT IN THE UNIVERSITY: This open-discussion group will consider how the student can be a viable force for constructive change for his own growth and development within the University community. Group will consider any topic. Sessions will cover a six-week time period. Thursday, 7:30 p.m., Holtz Hall Lobby. Leader: Chet Peters.

AUTO WORK FOR WOMEN: An opportunity for women to learn about cars. The group will examine equipment, the basic components of the auto, and their function. Learning emergency repairs, preventive care, and tire changing should also be helpful. The group will probably meet about once a month for 1½-hour sessions. Monday, 7:00 p.m., Skaggs Garage. Leader: John Parker 778-3525.

FILM-MAKING: This group began last semester and is already making films. It could use more experienced hands at picture making, as well as a camera or two, and someone who has developing skill. For more information contact Dave Mickey, 532-6951.

NATURE APPRECIATION: Anything from short hikes to weekend trips involving the enjoyment of autumn and its plants and birds—possibly involving some camping trips to Texas coast or Ozark mountains. I am open to your ideas. First meeting Wednesday, 7:30 p.m. Convener: Steve Fretwell, 9-5425.

SCIENCE FICTION: Read, enjoy, and discuss the literature of today—science fiction. Will be meeting over the noon hour on Wednesdays, starting Oct. 15. Student Union, room 204. Leaders: Dwight Nesmith and Joel Climenhaga, PR 8-5738.

BASICS FOR FRIGHTENED MALE COOKS: All you need is one pan, a skillet, a bowl, and a casserole and ZAP!!—You're a cook. Easy instructions for 8 to 10 men who would like to dine on more than hamburgers. This might require a certain amount of money to purchase some basic foods. We will meet every two weeks. Leader: Darlene Conover, 9-4732. Place and time to be arranged.

A MONTHLY DINNER CLUB FOR COUPLES: Let's share ways to stimulate our taste buds and our lives. I would like to get together monthly for dinner with couples from the Manhattan area. The dinners could be either pot luck or the evening's meal could be prepared by one couple. The direction of the group is up to you. Come to my home to discuss ideas. Convener: Mrs. Millie Combs, 217 Carlisle Terrace, 7:30 p.m.

IDENTIFYING WILD FLOWERS: I want to learn to identify local wild flowers, where they grow and . . . If you have a similar interest gather with us this fall. You will be contacted concerning the first meeting. Convener: Doris Grosh, 9-7864 and Steve Fretwell.

THE EDUCATIONAL SUNFLOWER: The seeds of the Education sunflower grow betwixt the equally deadly possibilities of dehydrating on the plant of closed, introspective methods or being scattered to the winds of undisciplined trial and error. So there arises the need for disciplined experimenters on all education levels. The frustrations of the rod, "children must be taught," the seeming total disinterest, what constitutes education of a taxpayer's child. I will be doing student teaching and would like to share ideas with others on teaching methods. Anyone else interested, please contact Joe Engelken, 539-8304.

LAST LECTURE OF YOUR LIFE SERIES: A series of weekly lectures, initiated last semester, is designed to give anyone in the University and Manhattan community an opportunity to address a group of people as if it were their last chance to express what they believe or consider important. We do not want to limit it to "last chance" lectures, but we would welcome you to speak out on whatever you desire. A schedule of lectures is now being prepared and will be sent to individuals.

DRAFT HELP: We urge that anyone who has to or has registered in the selective service system seek information and guidance through the service careers information center. Help is available from the following people: Rev. Bruce Woods—539-4281 Russell Yost—Moore Hall Dave Hursh—JE 9-8304 or through UFM Ed Lunn—Van Zile Hall

THE REVOLUTION OF PEACE: A small group of people at K-State have been noticing the evolution of Pop Festivals and the Revolution of Peace. If you have been noticing too and would like to participate in discussion, bring questions and any information and we'll try to get it together. Get it together. Get it together. Convener: Dick Gregory. Wednesday, October 24, 7:30 p.m., 1320 Laramie (Basement).

WHAT'S IT ALL ABOUT: People or groups that are interested in learning more about UFM or our ideas on education call or come by the office. A few people have volunteered their time this fall to visit with you or to talk with your group. (532-6957).

POVERTY'S PROBLEMS: An effort will be made to understand the problems of the American poor with special emphasis to be placed on possible student involvement programs. Group Leader: Jeff Spears. Meeting time announced at registration.

POSSIBLE GROUP: Sign up if interested in participating in encounter groups. May run weekend sessions. Will contact you later for details. Shel Edelman, 532-6736.

POSSIBLE GROUP—FLOWER ARRANGING: Several individuals are interested in getting together to learn more about flower arrangement. Because of time conflicts they are unable to attend the University's scheduled class on this subject. Anyone interested in taking the class or in leading it, should contact UFM. The leader need not be a professional. UFM, 532-6957.

POSSIBLE GROUP—HYPNOSIS: If enough people are interested in this subject a group will be formed. Sign up at registration and you will be notified if and when the group meets.
